SALISBURY BRASS BAND

REORGANIZED 1st January, 1866, on a larger scale than formerly, under the direction of its former tutor, W. H. NEAVE, who was also chief music writer and Band Teacher in Gen. Lee's army. He will be assisted in leadship and direction by his brother, Ed. Neavé, leader during the entire late war of Gen. Lee's best and most favorite band, viz: 4th N. C. The Band is composed of the best members of the old Band, together with the best members of several of the fine Bands trained by W. H. Neave, in camps, who have moved to Salisbury from all points in the State to follow their respective vocations and continue the study and practice of music. This Band will be a permanent institution for all State and festive occasions, and will equal the best to be found in the world, if sustained by those desiring a fine order of Brass and string music; if not, it must go down after this year.

W. H. Neave is also agent for the celebrated Dodworth Brass instruments, proved and warranted to him, and by him to others; also, the most pleasing collection of popular Piano music, selected by his friends, H. B. Dodworth and Kent Bostord, New York. For beginners, medium players, and advanced musicians, no trash for either.

Music composed and arranged to order for Parlor, Orchestral and Brass Band use for any kind and number of instruments.

Salisbury has been selected for Musical Headquarters for its central position.

N. B. More letters of enquiry for musical information, but with no view to business with Mr. Neave or Band, must contain two postage stamps.

THE SENTINEL.

WM. E. PELL, SEATON GALES, } Editors.

Monday, May 28, 1866.

OUR TERMS

THE SENTINEL is issued every morning (Sunday excepted) at the following rates:

For Daily, per year,	$10 00
" six months,	5 00
" one month,	1 00
" two months,	2 00
Semi-Weekly, per year,	5 00
Weekly, per year,	3 00

Our terms are invariably in advance. Money may be sent us by the Rail Road conductors or the Express Companies.

Mr. Clark's Resolutions--The Standard.

Our object in this article is not to defend Hon. C. C. Clark, or his resolutions. He is fully able to do that in his own place at a proper time. We design, however, to present the whole question so clearly before the public, that the course of those who favored Mr. Clark's resolutions will be vindicated and the false positions of the Standard fully exposed. To do this properly, a review of the facts will be necessary.

It is well known, in intelligent circles in this State, that upon the surrender of the forces of the late Confederate army under Gen. Joseph E. Johnson, near this city, that in an appendix, or embodied in the stipulations of surrender, Gen. Sherman entertained and developed a plan of early restoration, contemplating a recall of the State authorities, and the convening of the then elected Legislature, in order to the call of a Constitutional State Convention. This plan Gen. Sherman considered was in accordance with the views of President Lincoln and his Cabinet, and it met the approbation of B. F. Moore, Esq., and many of the prominent men of this State, as the proper, regular and constitutional way of restoration.

Before this plan could be perfected, Andrew Johnson, of Tennessee, by an inscrutable Providence, was called to the Presidential chair.—And while we abhor and denounce the vile and wicked means by which Mr. Lincoln was removed, and shall ever hold in utter detestation any and all who participated in the diabolical affair, yet, regarding President Johnson as the instrument under God for the maintenance and preservation of constitutional liberty and civil rights to the nation, we thank God that the mantle of Mr. Lincoln fell upon one so worthy.

President Johnson did not approve of Gen. Sherman's scheme. Regarding all the people of the South, and especially the constituted authorities of the States, as deeply involved in the blame of "revolution" or "rebellion," he was unwilling to give a seeming recognition to that authority, or to receive any aid from those whom he still regarded as "rebels," in inaugurating the restoration. He considered that the taint of secession and rebellion must first be removed from the Southern people, before they could be fit to participate in the restoration.—Hence, at a proper time, he issued his proclamation of amnesty and pardon, removing the taint from the great body of the people, and providing for the future pardon of those he might choose to forgive and reinstate. By virtue of the power vested in him by the constitution as Chief Executive in all civil and military matters, he determined to authorize and direct the call of a Convention of the loyal people of the several Southern States, to restore those States.

The object, authority and powers of those Conventions are thus set forth in his proclamation of the 13th. of June, 1865, appointing a Provisional Governor. The proclamation of the President, of May 29th., contains the same declarations:

"Whereas, The fourth section of the fourth article of the Constitution of the United States declares that the United States shall guarantee to every State in the Union a republican form of government, and shall protect each of them against invasion and domestic violence; and,

Whereas, The President of the United States is by the Constitution made Commander-in-Chief of the Army and Navy, as well as Chief Executive officer of the United States, and is bound by solemn oath faithfully to execute the office of President of the United States, and to take care that the laws be faithfully executed; and,

Whereas, The Rebellion, which has been waged by a portion of the people of the United States against the properly constituted authorities of the government thereof in the most violent and revolting form, but whose organized and armed forces have now been almost entirely overcome, has in its revolutionary progress deprived the people of the State of North Carolina of all civil government; and,

Whereas, It becomes necessary and proper to carry out and enforce the obligations of the United States to the people of North Carolina in securing them in the enjoyment of a republican form of government,

Now, therefore, in obedience to the high and solemn duties imposed upon me by the Constitution of the United States, and for the purpose of enabling the loyal people of the said State to organize a State government, whereby justice may be established, domestic tranquility restored, and loyal citizens protected in all their rights of life, liberty and property, I, ANDREW JOHNSON, President of the United States and Commander-in-Chief of the Army and Navy of the United States, do hereby appoint WILLIAM W. HOLDEN, Provisional Governor of the State of North Carolina, whose duty it shall be, at the earliest practicable period, to prescribe such rules and regulations as may be necessary and proper for convening a Convention, composed of delegates to be chosen by that portion of the people of said State who are loyal to the United States, and no others, for the purpose of altering and amending the Constitution thereof, and with authority to exercise within the limits of said State all the powers necessary and proper to enable such loyal people of the State of North Carolina to restore said State to its Constitutional relations to the Federal government, and to present such a republican form of State government as will entitle the State to the guarantee of the United States therefor, and its people to protection by the United States against invasion, insurrection and domestic violence: Provided," &c.

Here, it is plain, that the object of the President, in authorizing the call of the Convention, was, that it might be clothed with plenary powers,—to do what? To do all things usually done by State Conventions? The document does not support that idea. But "for the purpose of altering and amending the Constitution thereof, and with authority to exercise within the limits of said State all the powers necessary and proper to enable such loyal people of the State of North Carolina to restore said State to its Constitutional relations to the Federal Government," &c.

Gov. Holden, in his proclamation of the 12th. of June 1865, copies the above quotation from President Johnson's proclamation of 29th. of May 1865. These declarations embody, we submit, all the authority or power conferred upon the present Convention, and limit that power, though plenary as to its objects. The sanction and acquiescence of the people of the State in the decisions of the President, we submit, by the election of delegates, confers upon the Convention all the authority and power claimed for it by the President, and no more. So that all the organic or legislative acts of the Convention, necessary and proper to the restoration of the State to her original status, are as valid and binding upon her people as any acts of a Convention can be. Nay more, we concede and admit, that whatever the Convention has done or may do, in accordance with and in order to the accomplishment of the object contemplated by the President and people, are of full force and effect and binding in law upon our people. So far, we presume, there is no controversy. No one can doubt the entire validity of the acts and the authority of the Convention, to do all that the President and the people contemplated by its organization and election. The only question in dispute, as we understand it, and this, we presume, is all Mr. Clark's resolutions contemplated, is, can this Convention go beyond the authority conferred by the President and the people? Is it a free Convention to do every thing which the people could do, if they were present and acting, or is it a restricted Convention? This is really the gist of the question.

The genius of the government theoretically recognizes that all political power proceeds directly from the people. In practice, the people act through representatives, either in Convention for the framing or amending the organic law, or through Legislatures for purposes of ordinary legislation. In theory and in law, what Conventions or Legislatures do is said to be done by the people, and their acts are recognized as the law of the land, until repealed or amended. But the idea is mooted, that a Convention must necessarily be free, unrestrained and absolute. Such an idea, wherever found, cannot be found either in the theory or the practice of the State governments. All Conventions have either been free or restricted. In no real, tangible sense can Conventions be said to embody the will or powers of the people, except in so far as they act in accordance with the known will of the people, either expressed in advance, or at the ballot-box in voting upon the acts of the Convention, though custom and usage have made the acts of unrestricted Conventions the acts of the people, without submitting its acts in all cases to them for ratification; yet it is plain, that such a course is a departure from the genius and spirit of our institutions. But is it proper, is it legitimate, to restrict a Convention? We hold that it is, and the safety of our liberties are only sufficiently guarded, when all Conventions are restricted. The people, in order to good government, have restricted their own rights and powers; if so, may they not restrict a Convention? Most certainly.

Such we regard the present Convention to be. No question has been or will be raised as to the validity of any of its acts, within the scope of its authority as prescribed by the President and the people.

But the question recurs: Has the Convention fulfilled its mission? We think it has. This we understand to be Mr. Clark's position. And this we claim to be the declaration of President Johnson's proclamation. The Standard denies that the President does affirm in the Proclamation that North Carolina has satisfied the government and is justly entitled to all the privileges of the Constitution. Forney, of the Chronicle, admits our position in this regard, but the Standard, oblivious of the true intent and meaning of that State paper of the President, recklessly denies it. Our space, however, forbids further remarks.

The Sentinel is alarmed at the prospect of a change of the basis of representation in the Legislature.—Standard.

This assertion is not true. We see no cause to be alarmed. Since the abolition of slavery, we presume that, at a proper time, but few of our people will object to the white basis. There are two reasons why, to our mind, the present is not a propitious time for action on that subject. Waiving the question of the authority of the present Convention to make the constitutional changes necessary, the first fact, which renders action on this subject premature and inexpedient, is, that the adoption of the white basis would prejudge and embarrass the action of the people, if called upon afterwards to vote upon the plan of the Reconstruction Committee now before Congress. Our people are opposed to that plan, and therefore it is best to defer action upon the subject of this white basis, until the question of Reconstruction on the Radical plan has been settled. Secondly, until the next census is taken, the Convention could not approach to certainty in apportioning the representation to each county. It would necessarily act without correct and sufficient data.

"It is notorious that Gov. Worth's friends have been active in this movement, ("to break up the Convention,") and it could be proved that Gov. Worth himself has been personally engaged in it."—Standard.

We dare the Standard to the proof that Gov. Worth has been personally engaged in any such effort or movement. Out with it!

By the way, what has become of the Standard's correspondent, "We shall See," who had "personal" knowledge of a conspiracy against the government?

The Serenade to the Cabinet.

The serenade to the President and his several Cabinet officers, on Wednesday night last, has already been briefly noticed by telegraph.

The President's remarks were merely in acknowledgment of the compliment paid him.—Mr. Seward (by his son) and Mr. Welles briefly but fully endorsed the President's policy. Mr. McCulloch spoke at some length and very forcibly and warmly endorsed the President. He handled Congress freely. Secretary Stanton delivered a written speech, in which he defended the President in a Radical point of view, quoting such extracts from his message and giving such construction to them, as best suited his purpose. He took care to say he had advised the signing of the Freedmen's Bureau Bill, and intimated as much concerning the Civil Rights bill. He condemns 'the 3d section' of Stevens's Reconstruction Amendment, and sustains himself by some very just views.—Altogether his speech took more care of himself than of the President, and showed a warm side for the Radicals. The Postmaster General warmly endorsed the President, but thought Congress and the administration were not far apart, and may easily get together, if Congress desires it.

Letters were read from Secretary Harlan and Attorney General Speed, warning the serenaders in advance, that they would not speak, if called on. Speed is short to curtness, and Harlan tells about his devotion to the "great Union organization." Neither said a word for the President or his policy—which is as significant as if they had plainly condemned him.

In the speeches of Messrs. McCulloch and Dennison, we find some sentences of great party consequence, and which show that they are alive to the tendency of events. Mr. McCulloch said: "If the leaders of the great Union party can present nothing better than the programme of the committee, I am afraid its days are numbered. * * If it do not discard its hostility and its attempt to continue alienation between the two sections of the country, and embrace those principles which look to harmony, to restoration and to peace, its days are numbered."

Mr. Dennison, with less amplitude but equal significance, said, that if the difference with the President be not adjusted, it will probably lead to "unfortunate results to the Union party" as well as the country.

Despite the hesitation, and the reluctance, which citizens of all the parties are showing, what they have all got to come to is as plain as the road to mill. There can be but two great parties—the Radical or revolutionary party, disunion, agitation party, and the Constitutional, or conservative, Union, law-abiding, and peace party. Mr. McCulloch seems somewhat to comprehend this.

"Reconciliation."

It will be remembered that, some weeks since, we employed the term "reconciliation," as fully describing all that is necessary now to be accomplished in order to bring about a full restoration of fraternal relations under the Government. The revolt having been ineffectual, having been prevented by the power of the sword, immediately upon the failure the Constitution and laws of the United States resumed their original sway over the insurgent States. We have been pleased to see that Mr. Seward, in his Auburn speech, uses precisely the same word to cover the same idea.

The word "reconstruction" he hoots at as a misnomer,—"restoration" he regards as an accomplished fact, and the only end now to be attained, he contends, is "reconciliation." So far as the South is concerned, it has long since signified its willingness to be reconciled. That the question is open still is entirely the fault of Northern Senators and Representatives, and their constituencies.

"Let us hope, for the sake of the country, that these twenty-four or twenty-five embrace the full strength of the Worth faction in the Convention.—Standard.

Was there ever such impudence? The "Worth faction!" Faction is a term usually applied to minorities. Gov. Worth is the Executive head of the State by a large majority over the Ex P. G., although that deceased functionary did telegraph the President that the "Worth faction" would be defeated by an immense majority, and although sixty-nine members of this same Convention endorsed his claims (so-called) to election!

"If the proper steps are taken by this Convention, the State can be restored by the first day of next January."—Standard.

The Ex-Provisional omits to inform us and the Convention what steps are "proper." As he is known, however, to endorse Browlow, and to favor the diabolical measures of proscription and disfranchisement that have been adopted in Tennessee, it is easy to surmise what he would have the Convention of North Carolina do. But is Tennessee admitted yet?

"The President does not regard Gov. Worth * * * as loyal."—Standard.

Why, then, did the President remove the ex-Provisional, and place the reins of civil government in Gov. Worth's hands? Why is it that Gov. Worth has been able to procure the pardons of many of the gentlemen, whom the ex-Provisional recommended for suspension, and of many others upon whose petitions he failed to act. Does the Standard mean to charge the President with countenancing, aiding and abetting "disloyalty?"

"Could impudence or falsehood go further?"—Standard.

If "injustice or falsehood" could kill, the Editor of the Standard would have been dead years ago and long since forgotten.

WE WERE mistaken, in stating, in our last, that the resolution appointing Mr. Page 2nd. Assistant Door-keeper of the Convention had passed that body. It was laid over under the rules, and on Saturday was defeated.

STATE CONVENTION.

ADJOURNED SESSION.

SATURDAY, May 26th. 1866.

The Convention was called to order at 10 o'clock A. M.

Prayer by Rev. Mr. Hudson, of the Episcopal Methodist Church.

The Journal of yesterday was read and approved.

Mr. McDonald, of Chatham, introduced "An ordinance to amend the charter of the Governor's Creek Transportation and Mining Company."

Mr. McCorkle, "An ordinance to alter the time of holding the Courts of Pleas and Quarter Sessions of Stanly county." The rules were suspended, and the ordinance passed its several readings.

On motion of Mr. Stephenson, "An ordinance to change the time of holding the Court of Pleas and Quarter Sessions of Alexander county," introduced yesterday, was taken up. This ordinance also passed its several readings.

Mr. Buxton introduced an ordinance to provide for the election of a Lieutenant Governor of the State.

Mr. Love, an ordinance to amend the Constitution on the basis of representation. Ordered to be printed.

Mr. McCorkle, an ordinance prohibiting the General Assembly from conferring appointments upon members thereof.

UNFINISHED BUSINESS.

"An ordinance for the relief of the people of North Carolina, who have sustained losses by the war," was read a second time, and referred, on motion of Mr. Foy, to a select committee of seven.

On motion of Mr. Allen, an ordinance in relation to the qualification of members of the General Assembly, (introduced at the last session,) was referred to the Committee on Constitutional amendments.

A resolution declaring the unanimous desire of the people of North Carolina for an early restoration of the State to the Federal Union, and a resolution looking to an amendment of the Constitution so as to give the election of Judges, Solicitors &c., to the people, were laid on the table.

A resolution to raise a committee to inquire and report as to the expediency of establishing a Penitentiary in the State, was read and adopted.

A resolution of inquiry relative to the Piedmont Railroad and the State's interest therein was indefinitely postponed, the General Assembly having already taken action in the premises.

An ordinance in relation to Public Roads was laid on the table.

An ordinance qualifying voters for State officers and Representatives in Congress. Laid on the table.

Mr. Grissom (by leave) introduced "an ordinance to amend an act of the General Assembly to change the jurisdiction of the courts and the rules of pleading therein," commonly known as "the Stay Law." Referred to a select committee of seven.

An ordinance to levy a tax for the support of pauper freedmen, was indefinitely postponed.

A resolution of adjournment, offered at the last session, was read, whereupon Mr. Phillips moved the resolutions offered by himself on yesterday, as an amendment thereto

Mr. Moore, of Wake, could not see the logic of proposing an amendment to a matter that was not before the Convention. The resolution referred only to the former session, was left among its effete "debris, and was read by the Clerk because it had been left on file. He was not unwilling to consider the resolution offered by the gentleman from Orange, at a proper time.

Mr. Phillips argued that the resolution was properly before the Convention, and the amendment in order. He wished to test the sense of the Convention on the question of adjournment, and this could be done at once by a vote upon the amendment. If the amendment should be rejected, he could then address himself to the business of the Convention as cheerfully as any other.

Mr. Caldwell, of Burke, moved to lay the amendment on the table, and asked that the yeas and nays be ordered.

Mr. Caldwell withdrew this motion temporarily.

Mr. Moore, of Wake, moved that the resolution and amendment be made a special order for Tuesday next.

Mr. Caldwell, of Burke, renewed the motion to lay the amendment on the table.

The yeas and nays were ordered and the motion prevailed as follows:

YEAS.—Messrs. Adams, Alexander, Baines, Baker, Beam, Bell, Bingham, Bradley, Brooks, Bryan, Burgin, Buxton, Bynum, Caldwell, of Burke, Dickey, Dockery, Ellis, Faulkner, Furches, Gahagan, Garland, Garrett, Gilliam, Godwin, Grissom, Harris, of G., Harris, of R., Haynes, Henry, Hodge, Jackson, Jones, of D., Jones, of Henderson, Joyce, King, Lash, Logan, Love, of Chatham, Love, of Jackson, Lyon, McCauley, McCorkle, McDonald, of Chatham, McDonald, of Moore, McIvor, N. A. McLean, Nat. McLean, McLaughlin, Moore, of Chatham, Moore, of Wake, Pool, Rush, Settle, Smith, of Johnston, Smith, of Wilkes, Starbuck, Stephenson, Stewart, Swan, Thompson, Ward, Williams and Wilson.—63.

NAYS.—Messrs. An ordinance entitled "A relief ordinance" (proposing to suspend the collection of interests on debts, &c.) was laid on the table.

A resolution for the relief of disabled soldiers was indefinitely postponed.

An ordinance to authorize the election of two members of the House of Commons for the county of Moore, was indefinitely postponed.

An ordinance concerning debts of the State to be hereafter contracted, was made the special order for Monday next, at 12 o'clock, M.

An ordinance amending the Constitution on the basis of representation, (on 2nd. reading) was made the special order for Wednesday next, on motion of Mr. Logan.

A resolution appointing Jas. Page, of Randolph, Assistant Doorkeeper, was rejected on second reading. Yeas 29, nays 58.

Mr. Polk, by leave, introduced the following resolution:

Resolved, That this Convention will not consider ordinances or other matters of a legislative character, except such as may have been, or may be, recommended by His Excellency, the Governor, but will confine its action to questions of Constitutional reform.

Mr. McDonald, of Moore, (by leave) a resolution declaring what has been done, and appointing a committee to ascertain what is necessary to be done, to restore the State to the Federal Union.

Mr. Conigland, a resolution in relation to unfinished busines of the last session, [to the effect that such business shall only be taken up on special motion.] Adopted under a suspension of the rules.

The President appointed the following Committees:

ON THE STAY LAW.

Messrs. Howard, McRae, Pool, Adams, Settle, Grissom and Wilson.

ON MR. FOY'S ORDINANCE FOR THE RELIEF OF THE PEOPLE.

Messrs. Foy, Clark, Lyon, McDonald, of Moore, Harris, of Guilford, Johnson and Dickey.

ON THE RESOLUTION IN RELATION TO ESTABLISHING A PENITENTIARY, ETC.

Messrs. McIvor, Dockery, Alexander, Gahagan and Buxton.

The Convention then adjourned until ten o'clock, A. M., on Monday next.

GOLD is going out and five-twenties coming back. About ten millions in gold is the amount of shipments from New York and Boston in the last two weeks. Gold has advanced to 139 and a fraction, and there holds steady, notwithstanding the fact that the Treasury has within the same time put nine or ten millions on the market. Cotton has also declined in Liverpool on account of the large receipts of the same from the United States, India, and Egypt. Flour and wheat are lower abroad than in New York, and therefore large importations in these articles are made into New York. Cargoes of best Michigan wheat are coming back; and French flour is added to our list of imports. Much interest is felt in the subject of the growing crops in this country. The wheat harvest will be later than usual. It is not believed that the crops will exceed the average; it is probable that there will be a small surplus, if any, for exportation. The Southern wheat will come first into the market, and at good prices. But the South will not be able to do more this year than supply itself with breadstuffs. Formerly, in a period of short crops, the slave labor of the South helps us out. But this resource is now cut off, and the freedmen are not expected to do more than to provide bread for themselves. The corn crops, it is hoped, will be increased even over the large product of last year.—National Intelligencer

Commodore Rodgers has sent to the Navy Department a graphic description of the bombardment of Callao, Peru, by the Spanish fleet. The Peruvian batteries had Armstong and Blakely guns, which were used with such effect that several of the finest vessels of the attacking fleet were so badly disabled that they had to cease firing and withdraw from the action. Admiral Nunez was seriously wounded, and it was thought by the purser of the Vanderbilt that he could not survive his injuries. Senor Galvez, the Peruvian Minister of War and Marine, and said to be a man of marked ability, was killed instantaneously in one of the batteries by an explosion.

THE SENTINEL.

Monday, May 28, 1866.

CITY AND STATE ITEMS.

[Reported Expressly for the Sentinel.]

TRIAL OF MAJOR JOHN H. GEE.

SYNOPSIS OF TESTIMONY.

SATURDAY, May 19, 1866.

Adjutant Stockton, Witness for the prosecution, recalled for the defence,—continued.—About 1,800 men were recruited. The order was confined to foreigners.

Prisoners of war were not allowed to come within ten feet of the stockade. The sentinels were to halt them three times, and if they did not halt to fire on them.

I have seen the prisoners gather leaves on the right of the road going down to the creek.

Major Gee had a well digger who said there was no use in digging more wells. They seemed to drain each other.

There was a commissioned officer detailed with the wood train. Prisoners frequently escaped on the Western road. Many escaped from the water guard. About 50 or 60 went on a trip.

Major Gee wrote letters to Gen. Gardner urging an exchange, on the ground of suffering and retaliation, and the great burden they were on him.

On the day of the outbreak, the firing lasted five or six minutes. I saw no sticks or stones. I saw Capt. Fuqua trying to rally the guard. I heard the shouting from the inside, from a mass of men. It did not seem to be general over the prison.

Remember the police making complaint to Major Gee from the Common Council. Major Gee said he didn't report to the Common Council of Salisbury.

Major Gee seemed glad to see Mr. Hall, the inspector, and said he would give him any facility. This was about the 1st. of February. He wrote to Richmond, urging them to send an inspector, when the prisoners of war first arrived.

The "light duty" men were at the Yadkin bridge, six miles from Salisbury.

Major Gee told me he was going out, and saw a commotion, and said an old reserve was going to shoot, and he told him not to fire, but he did, and wounded a man. He regretted it. It seemed to him unjustifiable.

The sentinel said he did not hear Major Gee—that the order from the officer of the day was, to make them scatter.

Maj. Gee frequently went to see Maj. Myers about rations. Gen. Winder came there. Capt. Fuqua took him inside; he told Capt. Fuqua in the prison that if the outbreak occurred again, not to leave any alive. Maj. Gee asked me, "did you hear that? That was a very hard order."

Maj. Gee wrote to Gen. Gardner asking him to help him resign. He said he had tendered his resignation before he went to Salisbury.—The answer was that his position would soon be more agreeable. No officer then had a right to grant 60 days furloughs.

Gen. Gardner asked Maj. Gee if he could not save one-third of the flour by bakery, for a post fund.

I have heard Maj. Gee ask Morfit if he could not put up a temporary shelter, till he made houses for the prisoners.

Among the invalids on the return list, I knew no man named Chandler.

We were sometimes without any wood in my office.

When the negro prisoners came, Maj. Gee said that they must be treated as prisoners of war.

I went to the depot and saw Gen. Gardner; he did not get off the train. He asked about Col. Hinton and said he ought to be court-martialed. This was early in December. Maj. Gee's health was delicate all the time he was at Salisbury.

On the day of the outbreak, Maj. Gee said that the ringleaders should not be touched, that he would send them to Richmond.

Cross Examination.—The wood was furnished and the requisitions made and signed by Maj. Gee. They were entitled to the regulation allowance. Gen. Johnson was Maj. Gee's immediate superior after he came.

Dr. Howerton, of Salisbury. Was in the prison two or three hours every day.

Q. If the occurrence at the dead cart had taken place, would you not have known it?

A. I should probably have heard of it. I never heard till I came to Raleigh.

Dr. Curry and Dr. Wilson were the only surgeons, with the rank of Major—Dr. Curry wore a homespun coat with brass buttons and a star.

I generally had charge of the wounded; a good many were brought from Plymouth, and, I think, some from Virginia. I never knew of any brought there who were shot by the guard.

Maj. Gee did not have authority to take patients out of the prison hospitals and put them in other hospitals.

Cross-Examined.—Dr. Curry ranked as high as Maj. Gee. I am under the impression that he had nothing to do with the surgeons—I dont know anything about it. If prisoners had been shot by the guard, the prisoners would have told me. At the best of my knowledge not one was killed. I heard one was wounded when the chimney fell.

I did not have charge of all the surgical cases.

My ward was in the large wooden buildings. I had charge of three buildings—I prescribed in the open wards.

Re-Direct.—The Surgeons used to talk of our cases.

Addison Mangum, merchant, Orange Co. N. C.—Straw was furnished by Capt. Hains, forage quartermaster, to the Confederate hospitals and those for the prisoners of war.

I have thrown tobacco from the fence to the prisoners of war. My brother held service on Sunday in the prison. At that time the prison was clean.

The day of the outbreak, the firing did not last ten minutes.

I saw Major Gee trying to allay the excitement on the part of citizens and soldiers.

We had to impress waggons. The government waggons would not have supported me.

Public meetings to get provisions for Lee's army was in February.

D. Parish Lewis, Philadelphia.—This witness was in the commissary department when captured, and was sent as a prisoner to Salisbury, on the 19th. Oct. '64. There were 522 went with me, about 100 of them were sick. The balance were in medium health. I was made an assistant clerk at the prison, and taken outside by Mr. Lyerly.

The witness corroborated the statement in regard to paroles made by Mr. Campbell, in his testimony given before the commission. His evidence was cumulative upon the treatment of prisoners by Major Gee, the difficulties about wood, and conversations between Gen. Winder and Major Gee.

Five minutes after the firing commenced, I heard Major Gee's voice saying: "Stop firing!" Have heard him say that he had done all he could, but that he had no control over the quartermaster. Heard Major Gee urge Lock to hurry putting up the tents for the prisoners.

Up to the time I went outside, we received one-half loaf of bread, and I got meat four times, and soup daily.

Major Gee told witness about his resignation. I have seen prisoners getting leaves inside the dead line, by Major Gee's permission.

Between 1,700 and 2,000 men enlisted into the Confederate army—about three hundred enlisted whose names I did not get.

Lyerly was inside the prison a number of times every day—general superintendent inside.

The clothing sent by the United States was distributed under the control of United States officers.

I was inside the prison ten days.

[Gen. Bradley Johnson's testimony yet to come, which will conclude this day's proceedings, and bring the evidence up to the present time. The Court re-assembles to-day.]

WE ARE IN RECEIPT of several communications from students at Chapel Hill, with reference to the recent difficulty growing out of the appointment of ball-managers.

We think that an unnecessary amount of prominence has already been given to the whole matter; and, therefore, for the sake of all the parties concerned, we must respectfully decline any further agitation of the subject in our columns, unless occasion should imperatively demand it.

DEATH OF A GOOD CITIZEN.—We are pained to have to announce the death of Justus Kinsey, Merchant, of this City. He died at his residence, in this City, of small-pox, on Saturday morning last. Mr. Kinsey was an estimable and useful citizen, and his death is a loss to the City. He leaves an interesting family, who have the warmest sympathies of the entire community.

SABBATH SCHOOL CONCERT.—The concert given by the scholars of the Sabbath School, connected with the Methodist Episcopal Church, in this city, on Friday night, in the Chapel of the North Carolina Institution for the Deaf and Dumb and the Blind, was a decided success.

While all of the little folks performed the parts assigned them well, we were particularly struck with the recitations: "The Sweetest Thing on Earth," "The Lord's Prayer," "The Rainbow," and the Dialogue on "Exaggeration" and "Polite Swearing." Master J. Creech acquitted himself admirably, in his speech, as a representative of the little boys, and Joseph Harris, one of the "big boys," gave a number of "useful hints," in a very creditable manner. The "Salutatory," by Misses Crowder, Williams and Moss, and the "Valedictory," by Miss Lizzie Pullen, deserve special mention.

The exhibition reflects great credit upon the officers of the School, under whose supervision it was gotten up,—among whom we may mention Rev. W. H. Cunningim, who has been acting as Superintendent during the feeble health of Mr. Samuel H. Young, who has so long occupied that honorable position, Messrs. W. J. Young and R. W. Best. The excellent singing of the children is due to the training of Mrs. W. J. Young, aided by Misses Lipscombe, Pell, Fentress, Alley, and other young Ladies of the School.

Everybody seemed delighted with the exercises, and the large audience will not soon forget the Concert of the Methodist Sunday School.

A DAY IN THE WOODS.—The Sabbath School of the Presbyterian Church, with its corps of teachers and well-wishers, took a jaunt into the country on Friday, for recreation and sport.—Assembling early in the morning, at the Session House, and having invoked the blessings of the Good Shepherd upon the flock, with glad and grateful hearts the party repaired to the Raleigh and Gaston depot, and took the train kindly placed at their disposal, and were soon carried to their destination. The spot selected for the sport was about ten miles from the city, in the grove surrounding the residence of Mr. Andrews, whose kind and accommodating treatment will long be remembered. Near by was a mill-pond to which the greater part resorted, amusing themselves in fishing, in wandering through the woods, or in sailing over the smooth sheet of water. In the meantime, a handsome collation was spread under the sheltering trees of the grove, and the feast of good things was ample and well patronized. Later in the day, the children gathered together, sang some of the sweet hymns of childhood, and some grown up children, too, added to the joy of the occasion by songs and glees. Thus, with childish and innocent games and sports, with singing, with laughing and feasting, the day slipped away so soon, that the time for departure was regretted by every one.

Thus was spent a day in the woods. There was no procession, no speech making, no "sitting-up, behaving," but a day, nevertheless, full of fun to the dear children, little and big, that went. And many a bright eye, when age may dim it, and many a brow grown sad with care, will lighten as memory recalls the Pic-nic and Fishing party near Huntsville.

AN UNNATURAL NEPHEW.—In 1857, Mrs. Margaret Strange, of this city, and relict of the late Hon. Robert Strange, sent to her nephew, Samuel H. Kerfoot, in Chicago, $3,500 to invest for her. He borrowed it himself, giving his bond secured by mortgage for its re-payment. At the end of the war, Mrs. Strange having died in the early part of it, her administrator, the bond being long overdue, filed a bill to foreclose the mortgage. The affectionate nephew pleaded that Mrs. Strange was up to the time of her death an active supporter of the "rebellion," and that the administrator had been a "rebel." On demurrer, the plea was overruled, and judgment given for Mrs. Strange's executor for $6,000.

WE REGRET very much to learn that Capt. John B. Ivey, conductor on the W. & W. R. R., was seriously injured at Enfield, last week, while the up accommandation train was at that place.

EXCHANGE HOTEL.—We learn that Mr. J. M. Blair, of Asheville, in this State, one of the most popular Hotel keepers in the South, has become one of the joint proprietors of the Exchange Hotel in this city, and will have the entire superintendence of it. Immediate arrangements will be made for putting the house in complete order, with new furniture, &c.

MORE ROBBERY AND BLOODSHED.—We learn that a party of robbers, about eight in number, blacks and whites, went to the house of Mr. Gus. Carman, residing on the Washington road about nine miles from this city, on Tuesday night, and attempted to plunder his premises. Mr. Carman, becoming aware of their intentions, fired upon them, when the party made off; before doing so, however, they discharged several shots at him. One of the shots took effect in Mr. C.'s breast. He is said to be in a critical condition. Several of the neighbors of Mr. Carman, hearing of his injuries, immediately turned out for the purpose of arresting the villains. —Newbern Commercial.

For the Sentinel.

HENDERSONVILLE, N. C., May 20th., 1866.

MESSRS. PELL & GALES:—As the principal objection, save that of money, urged against a Penitentiary, last winter, was that the question had not been agitated and discussed before the people, and supposing that most men, who have thought much on the subject, and attended the spring Courts, are about convinced of the necessity of a Penitentiary or something else that would give employment to the vicious and dangerous disturbers of the peace, will you be so good as to publish the bill introduced last winter to establish a Penitentiary in this State? It is important that the candidates for the Legislature throughout the State should ascertain the feeling of their constituents on the subject. I presume there can be no partisan bias in the matter; one way or the other. All must see the necessity of something of the kind, and if this plan be impracticable, let some other plan, less objectionable, be suggested. The Legislature have already passed a work house bill; yet I doubt whether it is much better than the one proposed in this bill.

My object in making this request is to bring the matter fully and fairly before the people for an impartial verdict in the August election for members of the Legislature.

We have no county news worth writing.—There is a great dearth of news, owing to the want of mail facilities, with more destitution and want for provisions than ever known here before. In fact, there is great danger of actual starvation.

Judge Merrimon is prestiling, to the entire satisfaction of all good men of all parties; in other words, he knows no party in law, save by their guilt or innocence of crime. The State dockets are being crowded with acts for every immaginable crime from murder down to the smallest offences against the law.

It seems to me that if all the counties in the State can exhibit such criminal dockets as those west of the Ridge, that all men, of all parties, will be convinced of the absolute necessity of a Penitentiary. Respectfully,

L. S. G.

[We will publish the bill, to which our correspondent refers, at some early future day.]

GENERAL NEWS.

A St. Louis paper furnishes one of the latest illustrations of Radical tyranny: A Kentucky clergyman, more than eighty years of age, and of unquestionable loyalty, a Union man throughout the war, being on a visit to his daughter in Missouri, was invited to preach. Being ignorant or forgetful of the infamous test oath laws of that State, he did preach. For this crime he was indicted by the Grand Jury of the county, and publicly arrested, and held to bail to appear at the next term of the Court to answer to the charge preferred against him.

In the course of debate in the House, on the tobacco sections of the Tax bill, Thad. Stevens made some incidental allusion to the condition of the cigar interest since the end of the war. Randall, of Pennsylvania, promptly interrupted him, and congratulated the House and the country that the distinguished gentleman from the Lancaster district was at last willing to allow that the war was really over. This sally occasioned some laughter, amidst which the Pennsylvania Mephistophiles arose with a grim smile that betrayed his conciousness of the awkward character of his inadvertent admission, and declared with vehemence that he did not consider the war at an end—on the contrary, in his opinion, it had just begun.

George P. Downing, who was sent from New York to Washington to represent his negro brethren and to watch the proceedings of Congress, has protested against the report of the Reconstruction Committee. He thinks with Mr. Sumner, that the bill providing for the admission of Southern representatives to Congress does not go far enough.

From one thousand to twevе hundred church buildings were burned at the South during the war. The original cost of those churches is estimated at not less than five millions of dollars. The Methodists were the greatest sufferers, and after them the Baptists.

It is understood that a new indictment against Jefferson Davis has been drawn up in the Attorney-General's office since Mr. Speed's return, and that Underwood's indictment will be withdrawn and the new one substituted.—Correspondence New York News.

THE POLITICAL AXE.—The political guillotine is slowly making its ascending and descending strokes; but, as the working capacity of the machine becomes tested with use, it is believed that it will be worked with greater celerity from month to month. A number of important decapitations have already been made and many others are contemplated.—Washington Correspondence of New York Herald.

It is stated that Lieutenant-General Grant's pay, with the full rank of General, will be about fifteen thousand dollars per annum.

It is just one year ago, the 22d instant, since Jefferson Davis entered Fortress Monroe as a prisoner.

It is proposed to hold a great Southern Educational Convention during the coming summer.

The fight between Forney and Cameron, for the Pennsylvania Senatorship, waxes warm.—Pot and Kettle.

The southern people, just now, under the action of the agents of the Freedmen's Bureau, are like Swink and the bed-bugs. "Don't care much about the bugs," said Swink, "but the truth is, I've not got the blood to spare."—Cincinnatti Enquirer.

The committee of Congress appointed to investigate the recent riots at Memphis, have reached that city, and have commenced taking testimony.

William Gilmore Simms, the poet of the South, is about to publish "Southern Poems and Ballads of the war."

NEW AND GRAND EPOCH IN MEDICINE!

DR. MAGGIEL is the founder of a new Medical System! The quantitarians, whose vast internal doses enfeeble the stomach and paralyze the bowels, must give precedence to the man who restores health and appetite, with from one to two of his extraordinary Pills, and cures the most virulent sores with a box or so of his wonderful and all healing Salve. These two great specifics of the Doctor are fast supersecing all the overstyped nostrums of the day. Extraordinary cures by Maggiel's Pills and Salve have opened the eyes of the public to the inefficiency of the (so called) remedies of others, and upon which people have so long blindly depended. Maggiel's Pills are not of the class that are swallowed by the dozen, and of which every box full taken creates an absolute necessity for another. One or two of Maggiel's Pills suffices to place the bowels in perfect order, tone the stomach, create an appetite, and render the spirits light and buoyant! There is no griping, and no reaction in the form of constipation. If the liver is affected, its functions are restored; and if the nervous system is feeble it is invigorated. This last quality makes the medicines very desirable for the wants of delicate females. Uncerous and eruptive diseases are literally extinguished by the disinfectant power of Maggiel's Salve. In fact, it is here announced that Maggiel's Bilious, Dyspepic and Diarrhea Pills cure where all others fail. While for Burns, Scalds, Chilblains, Cuts and all abrasions of the skin Maggiel's Salve is infallible. Sold by J. MAGGIEL, 41 Fulton Street, New York, and all Druggists, at 25 cts. per box. Sold by all Druggists in Raleigh.

An Extraordinary Statement in Regard to Rheumatism and Pleurisy.

Peter Vaden, Esq., Dinwiddie county, Va., (Nov. 6, 1865) says: "In August 1857, my wife, aged 66 years, was taken ill with what the doctor called a Bilious Rheumatism affecting her whole system; rendering her entirely helpless, so much so, that she had to be lifted and fed as an infant, for the pace of three months, suffering the most excruciating pain, her hands drawn out of shape and stiff, so that she could not use them. After all other remedies failed, in January, 1858, I was advised to get the SOUTHERN HEPATIC PILLS for her. She used the Pills strictly according to the directions accompanying them, and we soon discovered a change for the better, and in one month's using she was well, and continued so up to the present time; has become fleshy, cheerful, and as active as one could be of her age. One of my servants was taken with a violent attack of Bilious Pleurisy. I gave him those Pills, and in about ten days he was up and at his work; said that he felt as well as he ever did, and has continued well ever since.—Another was taken with Pleurisy. I gave the Pills, and she was well and at her work in ten days after she commenced using them. My Doctor's bill has been heretofore from $175 to 200 per year. I have used them in my family, which consists of eighteen white and colored, and have not called in a doctor during the year. This is a great saving. They certainly are the best family medicine ever discovered. After a fair trial I can recommend them as such."

WE have received the manufacture of Cotton Gins in this city, and will be prepared to fill orders by 1st June next. As we shall not be, as heretofore, represented by traveling agents, parties wishing our Gins, will confer a favor by sending in their orders at an early day. As owing to the demand, we shall be unable to keep a stock in the hands of our local agents, as it was our practice before the war. All business transactions being now reduced to cash, our sales will be made on the basis of ready pay.

Our Gins are too well known to require any special notice or commendation; we believe they are unrivalled in the chief points of excellence which go to make up a superior machine, namely: Speed light draught and good sample.

Our DOUBLE CYLINDER GINS will be found superior to the single cylinder, when parties have steam or good water power, to give them the necessary speed. In all cases when this can be done, we recommend them in preference to the single cylinder. If, however, indifferent or insufficient power is used, they will not do as well as the single Gin.

Messrs. DeROSSET & CO., Wilmington, N. C., are our general agents for the State of North Carolina.

W. G. CLEMONS, BROWN & CO.

Columbus, Ga., April 24 '66.

We will give prompt attention to orders for the above celebrated Gins from any part of the State. The price is five dollars ($5) per saw at the Factory, and five dollars for each Gin will only be charged to purchasers for transportation to this point.

WARREN, N. C.,

WHITE SULPHUR AND CHALYBEATE SPRINGS.

THE UNDERSIGNED has the satisfaction of announcing to the public, that he has leased these celebrated Springs, and that they will be opened for the reception of visitors on the first day of June ensuing.

His arrangements are of that complete and extensive character, that he will be able to accommodate a large number of guests and to offer greater attractions than usual to those who may visit

This pleasant and healthful resort.

No trouble or expense will be spared to render his patrons comfortable and satisfied.

The grounds are elegantly laid off, and the buildings are enlarged and improved.

He will have ICE, MILK, VEGETABLES, and all the substantials and delicacies of the table in profusion.

An ICE CREAM SALOON and SODA FOUNTAIN will be attached to the establishment, where those refreshments, as well as CONFECTIONERY, Fruits &c., can be always obtained.

The bar will be supplied with the finest liquors, and a billiard saloon and bowling alley, for amusement and exercise, be at the disposal of visitors.

The Medicinal Properties

Of the Sulphur water have been amply tested during many years by a large number of visitors, and its beneficial results strikingly displayed in the cure or relief of Dyspepsia, Affections of the Liver, Jaundice, Diseases of the Skin, &c.

Another Spring has been discovered in the vicinity of the establishment, an accurate scientific analysis of which [given below] proves that it is a valuable Chalybeate. It is a mild and gentle tonic, and in the opinion of the physicians who have examined it, and witnessed its effects in some cases during several seasons, must prove beneficial in Atonic Dyspepsia, Chlorosis, Uterine, Nervous and Neuralgic Affections connected with Debility; and of especial service to persons living in malarious regions of country, whose blood has been robbed of its normal proportion of iron by repeated attacks of malarial fevers.

Persons travelling on the Raleigh and Gaston Railroad will always find a line of stages, under the management of Mr. Granger, ready for their accommodation at Warrenton Depot. There will be a daily mail from Warrenton to the Springs.

J. H. HOPE.
